TYZO Journal of Entrepreneurship and Industry Development
Volume 1, Issue 1 (2025)

It is with great pleasure and gratitude that we present the inaugural issue of the TYZO Journal of Entrepreneurship and Industry Development. This journal serves as a platform for critical thought, innovative research, and intellectual discourse in the fields of entrepreneurship and industrial development.

In an era marked by rapid technological change and global economic shifts, there is a growing need for scholarly work that bridges theory and practice, offering insights that can inform policy, guide business decisions, and inspire future innovation. This issue features a wide range of topics, including SME digital transformation, sustainable business models, product innovation, human capital development, and the role of public institutions in fostering entrepreneurial ecosystems.

We extend our sincere appreciation to the authors, researchers, and industry practitioners who have contributed their valuable work to this journal. Our thanks also go to the editorial board and peer reviewers whose efforts have ensured the academic rigour and quality of this publication.

It is our hope that this journal becomes a trusted reference for academics, professionals, policymakers, and aspiring entrepreneurs. May it inspire further research, cross-sector collaboration, and impactful action in the pursuit of economic growth and industrial advancement.

Happy reading, and may this journal serve as a valuable resource for all.
